04.04.2008, Schauspielhaus, Spectacle-premiere: Penthesilea – Heinrich von Kleist

The Amazons, ruled by warrior queen Penthesilea, back the Trojans against the Greeks. The queen is thrown from her horse by Achilles who spares her. Penthesilea waits for the Greeks. She encounters Diomedes. Achilles appears and admits his love for Penthesilea. Penthesilea, in true Amazon fashion, can only love a man she has defeated in battle. Achilles successfully persuades her by surrendering. They celebrate their love. They argue over to whose kingdom they shall return and the queen suffers the dawning of doubts. The battle between the Greeks and Amazons flares afresh. The Amazons gain the upper hand. Achilles and his host retreat. The Amazonian high priestess condemns Penthesilea for betrayal of her people in the cause of Achilles' love. Penthesilea's love rots into hate. When he comes to her with the intention of declaring his unconditional love for her she wounds him with an arrow and sets her dogs on him. They tear him apart. Learning the truth about Achilles' feelings she collapses into madness and at his funeral flings herself across his corpse and dies.

13.04.2008, Neue Szene, First Night: When we were dreaming – Meyer/Petras

The scene is east Leipzig in the early 1990s. Daniel, Mark, Rico, Pitbull, Paul and Walter are all campaigning for their own cause. They dream about their lives, they grow up with fear, anger, hope and an unbridled urge for freedom. Their lives revolve around the Premium Pilsner Brewery with its smell of fresh hops and malt and promise of nightlong drinking bouts and the local police station, where their nocturnal excesses seem to regularly end up. They drink, they smoke, experiment with drugs and girls. Their power and megalomania go to their heads until their crimes – not to mention the repercussions become more and more serious.

29.12.2008 – 31.12.2008, Gewandhaus, New Year Concerts

Arthur Nikisch established the tradition of New Year s Eve concerts in Leipzig with a performance of Beethoven s Ninth Symphony on 31 December 1918 before an audience of 2,800. This year, too, the traditional New Year concerts will attract many music fans from near and far. These performances of this magnificent symphony in the Gewandhaus will be conducted by Gewandhaus conductor Riccardo Chailly.
